

a is britain great of king present the of history the government of systems former their alter to them constrains which necessity the now is such and colonies these of sufferance patient the been has such security future their for guards new provide to and government such off throw to duty their is it right their is it despotism absolute under them reduce to design a evinces object same the invariably pursuing usurpations and abuses of train long a when but accustomed are they which to forms the abolishing by themselves right to then sufferable are evils while suffer to disposed more are mankind that shown hath experience all accordingly and causes transient and light for changed for not should established long governments that dictate will indeed prudence happiness and safety their effect to likely most seem shall them to as form such in powers its organizing and principles such on foundation its laying government new institute to and it abolish to or alter to people the of right the is it ends these of destructive becomes government of form any whenever that governed the of consent the from powers just their deriving men among instituted are governments rights these secure to that happiness of pursuit the and liberty life are these among that rights unalienable certain with creator their by endowed are they that equal created are men all that evident self to be to truths those hold we separation the to them impel which causes the declare should they that requires mankind of opinions the to respect decent a them entitle god natures of and nature of laws the which to station equal and separate the earth the of powers the among assume to and another with them connected have which bands political the dissolve to people one for necessary becomes it events human of course the in when

BARRY CHAMISH

twentieth century violent tree docks by the pier all anxious expecting the call from Montreal a new year's wish from the deserters who forged a knife through the laurentians and died peacefully on the dream island unforgiven he returned his folly the phone rang the liner was dead

JIM MCCURRY

HELEN LAUGHED

helen laughed while z waved his pen w/a flourish in midair waiting for her to read him the number. z did not know why she laughed but at that same moment he saw what she saw: in his mind's eye he saw a small black dog with the head of a Lab and the body of a Dachshund shaking vigorously in his jaws a mangled, half-gone carcass of some small furry animal, gone beyond recognition, proudly, as a trophy of his roadside hunt, and he saw himself, thumb held out by the road, and helen laughing: "Downer, Downer!" Then he remembered: that was the dog's name, they used to have, they took with them everywhere.//////////he said goodbye in russian & split.